SEAPOINT LINKS GOLF CLUB

DROGHEDA, COUNTY LOUTH, IRELAND

Aiming to be recognised as one of the Premier Golf Clubs on the East Coast, Seapoint Links is rapidly ascending the ranks of fine new Irish courses. A premier golf club is a combination of a top class links course, an active membership and a truly customer friendly staff. They must certainly be encouraged by the recent reviews and articles that have described Seapoint as "one of the finest links courses in Ireland", "a must play course for all golfers", "one of the finest links courses in the world" and "choc full of variety and chal-lenging strokes".

The original canvas that Ryder Cup Player Des Smyth and Irish International Amateur Player Declan Branigan, the original designers, had to work with included magnificent views of the Cooley and Mourne Mountains in the distance, Termonfeckin beach and the Irish Sea to the East, some wonderful dunes, and, of course, 260 acres of Links land. From that starting point they created a true championship golf course that has been enhanced and developed each year.

With a par of 72 over 7,150 yards and constructed on 260 acres of links land, every club in the bag is required to play this championship course.

The award winning Clubhouse is both welcoming and functional with ample changing facilities and a comfortable lounge bar and restaurant, where a wholesome, home cooked meal and friendly chat is always guaranteed. Their location, near the fishing village of Clogherhead, ensures a regular supply of fresh seafood, and local farmfresh produce is the mainstay of our menu. The terrace, which over-looks the coast, is an ideal place to relax on long summer evenings, while the open fire in the lounge provides a cosy welcome after a winter round at Seapoint.

The course also includes a large practice area which includes a putting green, driving range and chipping and bunker play practice area is always available to Members and Guests.
