

Luxury Accommodation in East Lothian

Nestled at the bottom of a secluded driveway, Letham House is located just outside the small market town of Haddington in East Lothian. This beautiful area is just a short drive from Scotland's capital city, Edinburgh.

- Luxury Accommodation
- A Beautiful 17th Century mansion
- Very friendly staff at Letham House
- Extensive grounds and gardens
- Great variety of excursions and sporting activities

With extensive grounds and gardens, this beautiful 17th Century mansion is an oasis of tranquillity and privacy where your every need is taken care of by Barbara and Chris Sharman. Having spent two years carefully restoring Letham House, the standard of each individual suite and public rooms are outstanding and has made quite an impression on our guests, creating many happy memories

Throughout the year the mature grounds are ever changing and Letham House makes an exceptional setting for all occasions, whether it is a special celebration or just a quiet weekend away. In winter roaring log fires, luxurious and comfortable suites, home cooked food and acres of beautiful grounds create a home from home in this stunning mansion.

"Outstanding personal service in a wonderfully restored house, an oasis of peace for some R&R..." Feb 2010

In East Lothian with such a great variety of excursions and sporting activities available, the staff at Letham House are available to help you organise the break you want. From golfing at world famous golf courses, going to the horse racing at Musselburgh to a visit at the local whisky distillery Glenkinchie, we can help you tailor your break. What ever your reasons for visiting the area, Letham House will welcome you with warm hospitality and provide you with all the necessary information and assistance to make your stay the very best it can be.